Programme Outline 課程簡介

This 4-year programme aims at cultivating talents in fields of art and art education. Student are allowed to choose between the majors in Art and Art Education, according to their interests and capabilities. Every year in order to broaden their views, we send over a number of exchange students to Art colleges throughout Asia and arrange several lecture series held by experienced scholars on a regular basis.

Objectives of the Programme 課程目標

In order to strengthen the areas of Fine Arts and Art Education in Macao, the Visual Arts Programme has been revised as a “Bachelor of Arts in Visual Art” (Specialty of Fine Arts/ Specialty of Art Education) commencing September 2010.

This course, emphasising both theory and practice, aims at cultivating talents with Macao and Sino-Western cultural art features and compound arts, and is run in cooperation with the Central Academy of Fine Arts and Taiwan University of Arts, introducing senior tutors to give lectures. Every year we provide a number of exchange students to Art colleges throughout Asia. We also arrange several seminars by famous artists, as well as sketching sessions outside Macao.

After finishing the first-year basic course, students must choose not only their optional general subjects, but also study one of the following subjects: Chinese Painting, Oil Painting, Printmaking, Sculpture or Ceramics. Thus, students are not only able to concentrate on a particular specialisation, but can also improve their general creative skills in Art. With regard to the Bachelor of Arts in Art Education, as well as the subjects of Art Theory and History, students are required to undertake teaching practice in primary or secondary school. The Bachelor’s degree will be awarded following final assessment and evaluation by instructors and external reviewers, and the students’ artworks will form part of a public exhibition.

What Will You be Expected to Achieve 期望達到的成效

1. Art Education Major:

To train and provide students with rich knowledge in art theory and art history, so as to cultivate creative talents with teaching qualifications in Macao while they are capable of teaching basic skills in Chinese Painting, Oil Painting, Printmaking, Sculpturing, and Ceramics in primary and secondary schools.

2. Art Major:

From diversification in Arts to the basic trainings in Contemporary Creative Arts, students are allowed to obtain knowledge in their chosen major and specialisation. In this way, they can become professional creative talents who meet the social developments and needs. They can also further their studies so as to discover their individual style.

How Will You learn? 如何學習

Ways of learning:

In-class learning, outdoor learning, lecture series and workshops on special topics given by experts, internship, etc. Every year, 4 students are sent to the Taiwan University of Arts for exchange. Also, teachers are available for tutorship (6 hours per week) apart from their regular classes. Students are encouraged to participate in competitions and exhibitions to broaden their learning scope.

How Will You Be Assessed? 如何評核

Teachers set the assessment criteria in accordance with the features of each course and the guidelines provided by the School. Theory courses are assessed by written examinations and reports while assessment for the studio practice courses require students to present their final assignments for each subject at the end of every semester. Upon the assessment by the teachers, results are sent to the Examination Boards for discussion in meetings, and eventually sent to the External Examiners for approval. Moreover, external professional examiners also participate in the assessment of graduation reports, graduation artworks and teaching internship. The weights of their marks given are respectively 50%, 50% and 30%.

How Do We Listen and Act on Your Feedback? 如何聽取及回應學生的回饋

There are Staff-Student Dialogue Sessions (institutional level, school level, programme level) in which responses are given to the questions and feedback from students. The programme will also follow up the related issues.

Academic Support 教學支援

Every year, the professors from our partner university, China Central Academy of Fine Arts, come over to give lectures to our students for 2 weeks.

There is a programme assistant who assists in the teaching assignment and enquiries from students, and supports the arrangement of outdoor teaching, academic activities and correspondence with invited scholars. There is also a studio technician who assists in the management of the studios, preparation of teaching materials and equipment, support and guidelines on safe and appropriate use of the mechanical and non-mechanical equipment in classrooms.

Besides, there are two student representatives from each class, they are responsible in facilitating the communication and coordination between the students and teachers.
